Istanbul

Istanbul, the only city in the world built on two continents, stands on both shores of the Bosphorus where the waters of the Black Sea mingle with those of the Sea of Marmara.

The Golden Horn divides European Istanbul in two. Here on this splendid site, the City guards the precious relics of three empires, Roman, Byzantine and Ottoman, of which she has been the capital.

A unique link between East and West, past and present that led to her selection and celebration as the European Capital of Culture in 2010.

For Istanbul is not only historic, she is also a magnificent city that is fascinating and vividly alive. Istanbul has endless variety with its gourmet restaurants and nightlife, arts, museums, ancient churches, palaces, great mosques, bazaars and the Bosphorus.

However long you stay, whether for just a few days or longer, your visit to this eclectic city will be unforgettable.
